Dear Sir or Madam,

Hello. My name is Chris Hansen and I live in Romeo, Michigan. I believe a bank of wal-mart would be a bad idea for several reasons. Wal-Mart is one of the biggest companies in america. They will have dominance over two sections of the economy: financial and commercial. They are already our biggest department/retail store, now they want to be our biggest bank?! Isn't that enough for them? I already don't shop at wal-mart for several reasons. Their demand for low prices from suppliers has forced labor to go outside of the U.S. The companies have used foreign labor to manufacture their products so they don't lose their critical wal-mart account. Now they are going to be a bank?! What' next, running for office? A wal-mart party?! A wal-mart lobbying organization?! I strictly oppose this new business!
